

A black and white line drawing of a large, multi-layered flower, possibly a sunflower or a similar large-headed flower. The flower is composed of many overlapping petals, some with detailed shading lines. In the center of the flower is a large, white circle containing text. The background is filled with various other floral and leaf patterns, creating a dense, decorative scene.

Die Lilia you moster you a growthm.

